

English

As authors and historians we will be learning how ancient civilisations were established. We will explore how they lived and traveled across the world using this data to write non chronological reports supporting to support our learning.

We will be continuing to use our new myHappyMinds journals to write about our feelings. Our communication, writing and mark making skills are also embedded across our curriculum to maximise our learning opportunities.

Maths

As mathematicians will be learning about Time, Fractions and position and movement.

In addition to focussed sessions, our mathematical learning will also be embedded across all of our topic learning. This ensures we are maximising our learning opportunities.

Topic Settlements

As geographers we will be learning about the migration and social structures of early civilisations. We will be comparing these lifestyles and types of migration to how we live and travel today.

As engineers we will be learning how ancient civilisations built their homes, we will starting this process by building a model of a Celtic roundhouse.

As artists we are going to study the Art of Celts, Vikings and Romans. We will be recreating our own original artwork using different media with historical artwork as an inspiration.
